

Sample Question Bank – Assistant Designer Apparel Madeups and Home Furnishings

Q1. What is the primary purpose of studying a techpack before sample development?

- A. To prepare salary records
- B. To understand sizes, materials, construction details, trims and accessories
- C. To prepare shipment documents
- D. To recruit employees

Answer: B. To understand sizes, materials, construction details, trims and accessories

Q2. Which of the following information is typically included in a techpack?

- A. Employee attendance records
- B. Dyeing, printing, embellishment details, labels and accessories
- C. Factory electricity bills
- D. Vendor payment records

Answer: B. Dyeing, printing, embellishment details, labels and accessories

Q3. Why should the techpack be reviewed with the client design review team?

- A. To discuss employee incentives
- B. To evaluate material availability, manufacturing capability and labor skills
- C. To arrange transportation
- D. To prepare marketing plans

Answer: B. To evaluate material availability, manufacturing capability and labor skills

Q4. Which personnel may be involved in developing proto and fit samples?

- A. Pattern maker, tailor, merchandiser and sourcing supervisor
- B. Security guard and driver
- C. Accountant and cashier
- D. Receptionist and clerk

Answer: A. Pattern maker, tailor, merchandiser and sourcing supervisor

Q5. Proto and fit samples should be developed according to:

- A. Buyer's mood only
- B. Revised techpack for the specific style
- C. Production schedule only
- D. Marketing requirements

Answer: B. Revised techpack for the specific style

Q6. Before developing a proto sample, an Assistant Designer should ensure:

- A. Availability of required materials and manufacturing feasibility
- B. Completion of shipment
- C. Approval of advertising campaign
- D. Recruitment of operators

Answer: A. Availability of required materials and manufacturing feasibility

Q7. What is the purpose of a fit sample?

- A. To estimate factory rent
- B. To check garment fit and style requirements
- C. To prepare invoices
- D. To assess employee performance

Answer: B. To check garment fit and style requirements

Q8. A cost sheet should be prepared:

- A. Without consulting anyone
- B. After consulting relevant departments and following standard format
- C. Only after production starts
- D. Only after shipment

Answer: B. After consulting relevant departments and following standard format

Q9. Which document helps estimate the cost of developing a style?

- A. Attendance Register
- B. Cost Sheet
- C. Leave Application
- D. Dispatch Note

Answer: B. Cost Sheet

Q10. Which sequence best represents the proto sample development process?

- A. Develop sample → Review techpack → Prepare cost sheet
- B. Study techpack → Review feasibility → Identify personnel → Develop proto sample → Prepare cost sheet
- C. Prepare cost sheet → Develop sample → Study techpack
- D. Recruit personnel → Prepare invoice → Develop sample

Answer: B. Study techpack → Review feasibility → Identify personnel → Develop proto sample → Prepare cost sheet