

Sample Question Bank – Self Employed Tailor

Q1. Before drafting a garment pattern, the tailor should first:

- A. Cut the fabric
- B. Take body measurements of the customer or available garment
- C. Stitch the garment
- D. Prepare the bill

Answer: B. Take body measurements of the customer or available garment

Q2. Which of the following is important while drafting a garment pattern?

- A. Using appropriate tools and materials
- B. Using any available tool
- C. Avoiding measurement scales
- D. Using packing materials

Answer: A. Using appropriate tools and materials

Q3. Measurements of a garment are marked on:

- A. Fabric directly only
- B. Paper or pattern sheet with drafting tools
- C. Carton box
- D. Polybag

Answer: B. Paper or pattern sheet with drafting tools

Q4. What is the purpose of preparing a standard paper pattern?

- A. To estimate electricity consumption
- B. To use as a reference for garment cutting
- C. To prepare invoices
- D. To pack garments

Answer: B. To use as a reference for garment cutting

Q5. Paper patterns should be cut according to:

- A. Fabric color
- B. Measurement requirements
- C. Customer occupation
- D. Machine type

Answer: B. Measurement requirements

Q6. Before cutting fabric, the tailor should:

- A. Stitch labels
- B. Place the paper pattern components correctly on the fabric
- C. Pack the garment
- D. Mark carton details

Answer: B. Place the paper pattern components correctly on the fabric

Q7. Before cutting fabric, the tailor should verify:

- A. Length and width of the material
- B. Customer address
- C. Machine speed
- D. Packaging size

Answer: A. Length and width of the material

Q8. Why should fabric be checked before cutting?

- A. To identify defects in the material
- B. To increase wastage
- C. To change fabric colour
- D. To reduce garment size

Answer: A. To identify defects in the material

Q9. Fabric should be laid according to:

- A. Available table space only
- B. Grain line, checks, designs, and fabric characteristics
- C. Customer preference only
- D. Sewing machine layout

Answer: B. Grain line, checks, designs, and fabric characteristics

Q10. After cutting garment components, they should be:

- A. Mixed with other orders
- B. Organized into bundles to avoid mix-up
- C. Stored randomly
- D. Packed immediately

Answer: B. Organized into bundles to avoid mix-up